

The background of the image is a detailed reproduction of Leonardo da Vinci's Vitruvian Man. The central figure of the man is faintly visible, overlaid with the text. Surrounding him are various sketches: a dome-shaped building in the upper left, a horse in the lower left, a spiral shell-like structure in the lower center, and a complex mechanical device with gears in the upper right. The entire image is rendered in a sepia or brownish tone, characteristic of the original manuscript.

NO TAXATION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION

PAY 2 CANDY PIECES IF...

You have one or more
brothers or sisters

PAY 3 CANDY PIECES IF...

You play a sport.

PAY 1 CANDY PIECE IF...

You have brown hair.

PAY 3 CANDY PIECES IF...

You like eating candy
and sweets.

THE SUGAR ACT

---

- ❖ Colonists had to pay a tax whenever they purchased sugar
  - ✱ Sugar is used for lots of cooking purposes. For example, any baked goods like cakes.
- ❖ Since sugar was in things like baked goods, the price for that went up as well.
- ❖ Colonists boycotted (stopped buying) the goods to protest the act.

PAY 2 CANDY PIECES IF...

You like to drink soda or juice.

PAY 1 CANDY PIECES IF...

You use paper to write things on.

THE TOWNSHEND ACT

---

- ✦ The king implemented a tax on glass, paper, paint, lead, and tea.
- ✦ These were all goods that colonists used very often and made the price of lots of things go up.

THE BOSTON TEA PARTY

- ❖ A protest to the tax on tea
- ❖ In the middle of the night, some patriots went on to a British ship that had brought tea to the colonies.
- ❖ They dumped all of the tea into the harbor

